

Abstract of the Disclosure:

A device for loading and/or unloading a transport cargo hold, in particular, on a goods vehicle, includes at least one transport unit, by which goods units, particularly several 5 thereof, may be simultaneously transported. According to the invention, the costs of the device may be reduced and the flexibility increased, whereby the transport unit may at least partly be introduced into the transport cargo hold.

GLM/nt